► Final Thoughts

- When we fail to discipline ourselves, we invite others to discipline us
- Let us regulate ourselves before others to do so for us.
- It doesn't end here – Greater heights of honour or ignominy beckon depending on how well we discharge our responsibilities
- We must always remember the philosophical underpinnings of our association
- Question? - Will you leave FIDA a better place than you found it?
What will you be remembered for?
